At China King, the menu offers a delightful selection of Chinese-American fusion dishes, perfect for any time of the day. As someone who's had the chance to explore their offerings, I can confidently say that there's something for every craving.

For lunch, you can't go wrong with the Mixed Chinese Vegetables, a hearty, flavorful dish featuring a colorful array of perfectly cooked veggies in a savory sauce. If you're in the mood for something more substantial, the Chicken or Pork Chow Mein stands out with its satisfying noodles and tender meat, all wrapped in a rich, umami-packed sauce. Another option that never disappoints is the Sweet & Sour Chicken or Pork. This dish strikes a perfect balance between tangy and sweet, with crispy pieces of meat that absorb the flavor beautifully. If you prefer noodles, the Chicken or Pork Lo Mein is a crowd-pleaser, offering soft, stir-fried noodles complemented by the savory flavors of your choice of protein. For something with a bit more zest, the Chicken or Pork W. Broccoli provides a refreshing, slightly bitter contrast to the savory chicken or pork.

For those looking to enjoy the menu all day, China King offers a variety of bold flavors. The Szechuan or General Tso's Wonton are crispy, flavorful, and packed with the perfect amount of spice, while the Hibachi Tripie is another standout—grilled to perfection, with smoky and savory notes that bring the meal together. Whether you're craving something light or want to dive into something heartier, the menu is full of tasty options to satisfy any appetite.
